

Libraries Spring 2019 Undergraduate Research Workshops

Getting Started with Research

- Monday, February 11 from 4:30-5:30 PM, Pattee Library W315
- Thursday, February 21 from 5:30-6:30 PM, Pattee Library W315

Blurb: This workshop is one in a series to help prepare students for doing their undergraduate research projects. This is not meant to be an exhaustive presentation or even explicit instructions on how to do research in every discipline. Because the nature and scope of each undergraduate research project varies widely, this workshop is meant to give an overview of research in general terms and to identify for students how they can get future librarian assistance with their specific project at their point of need.

Designing and Creating Effective Research Posters

- Thursday, March 14 from 5:30-6:30 PM, Pattee Library, W13
- Monday, March 25 from 6-7 PM, Pattee Library, W13

Blurb: Making a research poster can be a daunting process. How do you put all your research on one piece of paper? But never fear, the University Libraries is here to help! Don't miss our workshop "Designing and Creating Effective Research Posters." This workshop is designed for students at all stages of the poster creation process. Participants can expect to learn about best practices for creating visually appealing and effective posters, along with having the opportunity to put those best practices to use.

Presenting Your Research: Preparing for the Undergraduate Research Exhibition

- Tuesday, April 2 from 5:30-6:30 PM, Pattee Library, W315
- Monday, April 15 from 6-7 PM, Pattee Library, W315

Blurb: Poster presentations are a great way to get started with sharing your research. But how do you share complex research in a short amount of time? Get ready for the Undergraduate Research Exhibition with the Library and be prepared for the judges' questions. At the Presenting Your Research Workshop, we will talk about what to expect at a research poster exhibition, including what to bring, what to say, and how to leverage your research poster into new opportunities. This workshop is designed for anyone who wants to improve how they present and discuss their research with an audience. Participants will leave with an elevator pitch to share their research quickly and effectively with anyone they meet.
